Bombers in Fresh Raids Along DMZ

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers mounted fresh raids today along the demilitarized zone and Laos border, while South Vietnamese forces uncovered more bodies of enemy soldiers and three giant Soviet-made artillery guns.

Operating from a half-mile to five miles from the Laotian border and just to the south of the DMZ South Vietnamese reconnaissance patrols also seized three trucks, 1,500 gallons of gasoline, 200 mortar shells, 16,000 feet of telephone wire and a quantity of rice.

The area appeared to be a North Vietnamese base camp from which enemy troops had withdrawn back into Laos or across the DMZ in advance of heavy B52 raids in the region.

Spokesman said it was the first time 122mm artillery guns had been seized in South Vietnam since U.S. troops captured 12 of them early in 1969 during a lengthy operation in roughly the same area.

Field reports said one of the guns was in good condition and a second was slightly damaged, apparently by B52 raids that have been saturating the region around Khe Sanh. The condition of the third one was not immediately reported.

The 13,500-man South Vietnamese drive below the western sector of the DMZ encountered its heaviest shelling attack since it began eight days ago.

North Vietnamese gunners fired 100 rounds at a reconnaissance patrol 11 miles northwest of Khe Sanh and five miles from the Laos border. The South Vietnamese command said the government reconnaissance team escaped unscathed.

In action Sunday, South Vietnamese forces reported killing five enemy soldiers and finding the bodies of 32 others killed by U.S. air strikes. A military spokesman said this raised to 64 the number of North Vietnamese bodies found during the drive.

There has been no major ground fighting.

The artillery guns, each weighing about 17,000 pounds with a range of 13 miles, were found in the same area where the reconnaissance team was shelled. It was not immediately determined if the same guns were used in the attack.

More than 100 miles south of the DMZ, below Da Nang, South Vietnamese militiamen reported they ambushed an estimated 100 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops and killed 29 of them without suffering a casualty.

Little Change in Weather Picture

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 Little change was expected in the Arkansas weather picture until Wednesday.

The National Weather Service said the state's weather was being controlled by a high pressure cell that was expected to be located in northern Missouri late today.

A dry cool front was expected to push through Arkansas today, but there was to be no significant change in the weather.

Early morning temperatures were expected to continue rather cool, especially in the northern portion of the state.

The forecast calls for generally fair through Tuesday with warm days and mild nights.

Highs were expected to be in the 80s and low 90s with lows in the 50s and 60s.

Shooting at Emmet Under Investigation

A Negro man listed as Joseph Page, 22, of Memphis was shot in a fracas about 9:30 p.m. Sunday at Emmet. He was taken to a Prescott hospital where he was treated for a 22 cal. bullet wound and released.

Nevada County Deputy Sheriff Clyde Covington of Prescott said the investigation has not been completed.

Hurricane Heidi Barrels Along Coast

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Tropical Storm Heidi barreled up the Atlantic coastline today, threatening the Northeast with more heavy rains, while her older sister Edith drifted on a course that would take it into Mexico.

In the Atlantic east of Bermuda, Hurricane Ginger menaced shipping with winds of 90 miles an hour.

As the remains of Tropical Storm Fern broke up in the mountains of Mexico, a new tropical depression headed in the direction of Barbados some 2,000 miles southeast of Miami.

Edith, which killed 23 persons in Nicaragua and Honduras when it carried hurricane force winds into the two Central American countries last Thursday, has been downgraded to a tropical storm with peak winds of 45 m.p.h.

But the National Hurricane Center in Miami predicted Edith would gradually strengthen with the storm center crossing the northeast coast of Mexico tonight.

She was about 200 miles east of Tampico, Mexico.

Other storms kicking up trouble were:

Heidi—A tropical storm with peak winds of 50 m.p.h., her position at 6 a.m. EDT today was about 215 miles northeast of Cape Hatteras, N.C., and heading northward, at about 15 m.p.h. Forecasters said her speed was expected to pick up to about 20 m.p.h. during the day.

New Record for Arkansas River Run

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two Little Rock men, Doyle Fulmer and James Robinson, have set the first official record for the fastest time of a boat traveling 420 miles up the Arkansas River from the Mississippi River to Tulsa, Okla.

Fulmer said Sunday they had made the trip in 15 hours and 57 minutes after leaving Lock and Dam No. 1. Fulmer said they made the trip in an 18-foot runabout with a 160 horsepower motor.

Two Benton men, Thomas Dons and Robert Maertens, will attempt to break that record Monday morning.

Soviet Diplomacy Not Sure Where Its Going, Wants to Stop China

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
 AP Special Correspondent
 Soviet diplomacy seems far from sure where it's going, but in a hurry to get there.

Top leaders and diplomats are traveling in what begins to look like a frantic "stop China" drive.

In particular the plan of Premier Alexei Kosygin to visit Canada seems part of an effort to get in Soviet licks before President Nixon goes to Peking.

The Russians are in a tough spot with regard to China. Moscow purports to speak for the Communist world. For 22 years Moscow has raised indignant protest against exclusion of Red China from the United Nations. Now Peking seems about to get into the world organization and the Russians can do nothing openly but support it.

What they might do covertly would be quite another question.

In any case, the Russians have prepared a long bill of particulars available for anybody's use. It charges:

Controversy Continues Over Busing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 San Francisco today becomes the largest city in the nation to integrate its public schools through court-ordered busing as local controversy over similar plans continues in other cities.

Protest leaflets were circulated Sunday in San Francisco's Chinatown urging parents to keep their children home. Special police and sentry dogs guarded the 130-bus fleet.

The plan for integrating the city's 97 public elementary schools calls for busing 26,000 children while another 20,000 stay in their neighborhoods and walk to classes.

Elsewhere in the nation there were these developments:

—Jackson, Miss., school officials said court-mandated busing of some 8,000 pupils would continue despite an order by Gov. John Bell Williams which seeks to cut off state funds to the school district.

Williams cited a state law barring busing within a city in issuing his order Saturday. At stake is $8 million of the total $20 million school budget. Jackson schools had opened without incident last Tuesday.

—Pontiac, Mich., continues busing and awaits the outcome of a court-ordered investigation of the local police department's enforcement of the desegregation plan.

On a joint motion by the school board and NAACP, U.S. District Court Judge Damon J. Keith ordered U.S. marshals to probe charges that the Pontiac police have not taken adequate action to enforce the busing order.

Farm Bureau Leaders Air Problems

Farm Bureau leaders from Hempstead County were on hand as Farm Bureau policy committees discussed farm and related affairs last week at the Town and Country Restaurant, in a regional meeting preparatory to this fall's county, state and national Farm Bureau policy development.

Attending from this county were: Troy Burson, Lester Kent, Frank Clark, Robert Vandiver and Warren Plyler.

State issues receiving primary emphasis were: Taxation, roads, environmental control laws, research needs and work of regulatory agencies.

National affairs stressed by speakers included: Revenue sharing, trade, farm labor legislation, marketing and bargaining legislation and commodity programs.

County Farm Bureau President R. E. Lively announced that Troy Burson of Hempstead County Farm Bureau is chairman of the organization's Resolutions Committee which will be responsible for recommending policy statements to the county Farm Bureau convention scheduled for October 7, at Hope.

Other members of his committee are: Frank Clark, Ralph Montgomery, Lester Kent, W. T. Sanders, Cecil Bittle, and Autrey Wilson.

Policy is updated annually at county, state and national levels, concluding with the American Farm Bureau convention, which this year is scheduled for December 6-9 at Chicago.

Urges Halt to Petty Bickering

By WALTER R. MEARS
 AP Political Writer

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew urged Americans today to set aside "petty bickering" and political jockeying, and help President Nixon in the quest for a new prosperity without inflation.

He told the nation's governors the administration is open to ideas, and is searching for improvements, in President Nixon's new economic policy.

"We all want the new prosperity, without inflation and without war," he said in a speech prepared for the 63rd National Governors Conference. "No party and no political leader has a monopoly on wisdom or an exclusive on the common goals of all Americans."

Agnew disputed Democratic labor charges that the tax measures recommended by Nixon are unfairly weighted in favor of big business and the affluent. "The facts are that the president has proposed a balanced tax package," he said.

And he dismissed the assertion of critics that profits should have been frozen along with wages and prices. He said profits produce taxes, and encourage the productivity that can conquer inflation.

"Let me say the unsayable," Agnew said. "Rising corporate profits are good for the average man, and are needed more than ever by the poor."

While he defended the Nixon program, Agnew said it "was not handed down from Mt. Olympus; it should be subject to the most searching analysis, and where it can be improved, it should and will be improved."

Agnew told the conference Nixon has invited its executive committee to meet with him on Thursday at the White House "in order that you may fully participate in helping plan the phase of the system of wage and price stabilization that will follow the present phase."

Common Mkt. 9 Hostages, 28 Convicts Determined to Agree

BRUSSELS (AP) — The six Common Market finance ministers met today voicing determination and some optimism about reaching agreement on a plan to reshape the world monetary system in such a way that the dollar would ultimately lose its leading role.

A key to the success or failure of the meeting appeared to be the Common Market Commission's long-range plan for reorganizing the world monetary system.

The plan calls for a realignment of the parities of leading currencies, including the dollar and the dollar's ultimate replacement by special drawing rights as the basic unit of international exchange.

The meeting was called amid growing feelings within the European Economic Community that the system should be denationalized, meaning that it no longer would be based on any national currencies whether on the weakened U.S. dollar or the strengthened West German mark.

The ministers will attempt to fuse a single position for Wednesday's meeting in London of the Group of Ten leading industrial nations and the Sept. 27 meeting in Washington of the 118-member International Monetary Fund-IMF.

But because of basic differences between France and West Germany, there was little hope that agreement would be reached at today's session.

The ministers appeared to be looking beyond present differences toward the more distant goal of a new world monetary order.

"On the eve of the meeting, Italy's Treasury Minister Mario Ferrari-Aggradi, who will preside, told newsmen that the session would "present a delicate step along a long, difficult road."

The Common Market Commission, which makes proposals independent of the six member governments, has suggested that the dollar and pound sterling gradually be replaced by special drawing rights to the IMF backed by gold as the basis for international financial and trade transactions.

While the commission does not say so in as many words, it obviously wants the dollar to be devalued and other currencies like the mark and Japanese yen to be revalued upward. But President Nixon has refused to devalue the dollar.

Chairmen for Campaign Are Named

Committee chairmen for the September 1971 Breath of Life campaign were named Monday by Georgia Bledsoe, campaign chairman of the Arkansas Chapter of the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation.

Chairman of the House-to-House Industrial and Business Firms committees are Mary Jane Reyenga, Dee Singleton, and Sandra McFarland all of the Nike Club.

Susan Sinyard will take care of shopping centers and Mrs. Jon Leim the Strong addition and Mrs. Dale Jones, Mrs. Perry Henley, and Mrs. Vance Marcum will handle the downtown area.

Named to Commission

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers has named Henry Anthony of Lake Village to the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission.

Anthony, a prominent South Arkansas businessman, was appointed Saturday. He succeeds Charles Wilkins of Magnolia, whose term expired.

Anthony, 41, operates the Alice-Sidney farms at Lake Village. He is vice president and director of the First State Bank in Lake Village and is a member of the Board of Directors of Anthony Forest Products Co. in El Dorado.

Import Tax Issue to Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee summoned today to Nixon administration officials today to explore ramifications of the 10-per-cent imports surcharge imposed by the President in his save-the-dollar campaign.

The committee planned to hear from Paul A. Volcker, undersecretary of the Treasury for monetary affairs, and Nathaniel Samuels, undersecretary of State for economic affairs.

The surcharge does not require legislative action. But some members of the Finance panel, which handles foreign-trade bills, privately have voiced concern about it.

They fear there will be strong pressure from domestic interests to continue the surcharge indefinitely and that this could bring retaliation and wreck the relatively liberal trade structure erected over the last 35 years.

One committee member who advocates greater protection for U.S. industry, Sen. Paul J. Fannin, R-Ariz., said he welcomes the surcharge.

It should be maintained, he declared, "until our major trading partners halt unfair practices which have allowed them to flood the U.S. market while keeping American products out of their home markets."

Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., who is conducting the hearings as chairman of an international trade subcommittee, said he hopes the administration will move quickly to take advantage of the "shock effect" of the surcharge and Nixon's action suspending convertibility of dollars into gold.

State Subsidy for Ambulance

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A state subsidy for ambulance service in the state was proposed Saturday by Dr. Roger B. Bost, head of the state Social and Rehabilitative Services Department.

ATTICA, N.Y. (AP) — Nine hostages and 28 convicts were killed today as state police, backed by helicopters dropping tear gas, stormed Attica state prison and put down a four-day rebellion.

"There is some question now whether the prison is now entirely secured," a spokesman for the State Correction Department said more than four hours after the assault on the prison.

"Several of the hostages had their throats slashed," he said.

The remaining 29 hostages were brought out alive, but four were seriously injured.

In New York, a spokesman for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said several of the hostages had been dead for several hours before state police moved into the prison in force shortly after 9 a.m., the deadline on an ultimatum issued to the prisoners.

The governor's office said Rockefeller "completely supported" the decision to storm the prison.

Attorney William Kunstler, one of a group of outsiders who had been called in at the prisoners' request to aid in the negotiations, accused Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of ordering the negotiations halted, and called it "a monstrous act."

"Officials never seem to learn that patience is a virtue, and in this case would have been a life saver," Kunstler said. "There would have been room for negotiations if it took six months or a year."

Oswald delivered his ultimatum in a face-to-face confrontation with "Brother" Richard Clark, one of the inmate leaders.

The written ultimatum said, in part:

"I am anxious to achieve a peaceful resolution of the situation. . . I urgently request you to reconsider my earlier appeal that all hostages be released immediately unharmed (and) you join with me in restoring order."

"I must have your reply to this urgent appeal within the hour. I hope and pray your answer will be affirmative."

Clark's only reply was that he would refer the ultimatum to "the people's central committee."

At least five of the hostages urged that full amnesty be given to their captors. One hostage expressed fears for his life.

Four Persons Killed on Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Four persons were killed on Arkansas highways this past weekend. All four of the deaths, including a double fatality occurred Saturday.

The Associated Press weekend highway fatality count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

State Police said Carter Raymond Carloy, 41, of Marianna and Mary Partee, 21, of Brinkley were killed on Arkansas 121 near Marianna.

Police said Carloy's car crossed the center of the road and struck a pickup truck head-on.

Officials said Leroy Phillips, 59, of Prescott was killed Saturday night when the car in which he was riding collided head-on with another car on the Mabelvale west exit ramp on Interstate 30, south of Little Rock.

State Police said that Thomas G. Sullivan, 23, of Hammond, La., died Saturday of injuries he received Saturday when he was hit by a car in Fort Smith.

Success of Dollar Action to Be Slow

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The new U.S. international economic program which was decided upon swiftly and unilaterally depends now for its success upon a series of bilateral agreements that may be painfully slow and knotty.

The shock of the announcement Aug. 15 that the United States was floating its dollar and imposing a 10 per cent surcharge on imports left almost every foreign nation unable to react in word or deed.

Now, while the United States may retain the initiative it has lost the momentum, and foreign governments are developing a counterattack.

Canadians are angry and intend to subsidize exports. The Japanese decline to revalue their Yen. The Latin American nations fear a falloff in Western Hemisphere trade. The Common Market nations propose a dollar devaluation.

By embarking on a new course of economic self-interest, it is entirely logical to assume that the United States could cause a readjusting of foreign policy and economic sympathies and even alliances.

At that time the new program was ordered, optimists saw it this way:

The United States was sick of being discriminated against. It asserted its power by unilaterally floating the dollar. If other countries were reluctant to revalue their currencies the United States would blackjack them with a surcharge.

But now even some American businessmen have doubts about using the surcharge as a club and fear that retaliatory measures could be imposed by other nations with a resulting decline in world trade.

John Carroll, president of American Hoist & Derrick, which does a big export business from St. Paul, Minn., expressed last week the mixed feelings of some businessmen who see immediate benefits and long-term drawbacks.

"As the dollar becomes worth less in relation to other currencies the export job is easier," said Carroll. "I have to see it that way."

But, he added: "They will reciprocate. Retaliation is coming. This will boomerang terribly."

The American problem, Carroll insists, is not to reduce imports but to increase exports. The task is not to make it harder for other nations to export to the United States, he said, but to make it more profitable for American companies to send their goods abroad.

No Decision on Acquisition of Land

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The University of Arkansas Board of Trustees indicated Saturday that an impasse had been reached in negotiations to acquire 40 acres of land from the Methodist Children's Home and "other means" might have to be used to get the land.

The "other means" referred to by the board members apparently is a reference to a land condemnation suit. The U of A does have the power of eminent domain.

The UA board had offered the Methodists $1 million for the tract of land, which is adjacent to the University of Arkansas at Little Rock campus, but the Children's Home board has asked $1.5 million.

The UA board members said that as agents of the state, they did not feel justified in making an offer greatly in excess of the appraised value of the land.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Trial opens here today in the federal government's attempt to overturn the 1969 election of W.A. "Tony" Boyle as president of the United Mine Workers of America.

The Labor Department suit accuses the union leadership of intimidation, election fraud and using union funds "to promote the candidacy of its incumbent international officers."

In addition to the UMW presidency, at stake in the civil suit before U.S. Dist. Court Judge William B. Bryant are the jobs of almost the entire Boyle hierarchy, including Vice President George Tittler and Secretary-Treasurer John Ownes. They ran on Boyle's ticket.

Boyle claims the election for the leadership of the 200,000-member union was fair and square.

The bushy-browed labor kingpin is only the third UMW president since the late John L. Lewis started a 40-year reign in 1920. When Lewis retired in 1960, he picked UMW Vice President Thomas Kennedy to succeed him.

After Kennedy in 1963, Lewis promoted Boyle, his fiery personal assistant, into the $50,000-a-year job. Lewis was the power behind the throne until he died in 1968.

Boyle's major troubles started in 1969 when former union troubleshooter, Joseph A. "Jock" Yablonski, broke away from the established leadership to challenge Boyle for the union presidency. Yablonski had been on the UMW's executive board.

The day after the Dec. 9 election, Boyle claimed victory to a second five-year term, saying he polled 80,618 votes to Yablonski's 45,515.

A few weeks later Yablonski, his wife and daughter were shot to death in their Clarksburg, Pa., home. Boyle called a news conference to "swear by Almighty God" that he had nothing to do with the slayings.

Five persons, including a UMW local president, have been charged in the slayings.

Yablonski had complained to the Labor Department of outright bribes, intimidation and similar illegal practices immediately following the election. The murders jarred investigators into action, and then Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz announced the litigation on March 5, 1970.

CAR SALESMAN TAKING HER FOR A RIDE

Dear Helen:

I am a new widow and not used to men.

I knew this man while I was married and so, when he asked me out, I accepted. Actually he was a business acquaintance. I believed him when he said he was divorced. We got quite friendly.

When I planned a European trip, he said he wanted me to write, but he gave me his office address, saying he had a nosy landlady who snooped in his mail and sometimes didn't deliver it. I asked for his phone number but he said he didn't have one, temporarily, because of a mix-up on billing. It sounded fishy to me, and I said so. How did I know that he wasn't trying to hide me from his wife? He never once took me to his "apartment."

He became very angry and accused me of not trusting him. I haven't heard from him since, although I wrote a note of apology. My trip is scheduled for the last of this month. Should I try to reach him again, as I don't want to come home to a manless existence. (But I don't want to get mixed up with a married man, either.)

Oh yes, I forgot to say: He's a car salesman, and he borrowed $25.00 that he hasn't returned to me. —GLORIA

Dear Gloria:

My IGAP ("I'm Guessing Again Perception") says your car salesman took you for a ride. Be glad it was short and cost only $25.00. —H.

Dear Helen:

About four years ago you published a column titled "What is a Wife?" I kept it in a "Safe" place but, being a wife, that means I'll find it again next time we move. Could you re-print it for me and my friends? I believe it was written by your husband. —ANOTHER NUT

Dear Nut:

Be glad to. But let me say here

Porkers Just Kept on Improving

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) —From the time California scored a first-quarter touchdown until Arkansas' 51-21 victory was secure, the Razorbacks' young defenders got better and more emotional.

Granted Arkansas' offense, with Joe Ferguson at the controls, rolled up more than 500 yards and averaged more than six yards a play. On the other hand, California's total output was 172 yards — 80 of which came on the Bears first scoring drive.

The Arkansas defenders swarmed the Bears so effectively that California's longest run from scrimmage, excluding a couple of scrambling gains by the quarterbacks, was eight yards.

Those who were in the stands could not help but notice the three, four and five Razorback tacklers around the ball carrier; the players pounding each other on the back and shouting encouragement to each other.

"We had a more multiple defense last year," said Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles. "With the young players we had we decided to stick with one defense and try to be more reckless. In the last scrimmage we felt like the defense was beginning to react without having to think."

Broyles said the series that "made the defense" came in the first quarter when the Bear's Bill Backstrom recovered a fumble on the Arkansas eight with California leading 7-0.

Two plays netted minus one yard and then Jim Benton picked off a Jay Cruz pass at the Arkansas one and returned it 17 yards.

"You think they weren't happy," Broyles said. "They were as thrilled as they could be."

Arkansas then drove into California territory but Jon Richardson fumbled and the Bears recovered the ball on their own 14. Steve Kennitzer made seven yards but two more plays left the Bears a yard shy of a first down.

"We were behind then and with the fumble we could have lost our morale, but they did not make a first down," Broyles said. "The defense felt like King Kong when they came off the field. The defense was gaining momentum and confidence."

After forcing the Bears to kick, Arkansas moved for the tying touchdown with fullback Skipper DeBorde going the last 10 yards.

California went back ahead with 2:27 left in the second quarter on Kennitzer's second short scoring run. From then on it was downhill for the Bears.

Ferguson moved the Razorbacks 67 yards for the go ahead touchdown completing six of eight passes for 63 yards in the drive. He zipped a 16-yarder to Jack Ettinger on fourth and seven from the California 37 and then hit Ettinger for another 16 yards and a first down at the California five.

The Razorbacks called time out and went into the Wishbone formation, incorporated in the spring to make the Razorbacks' short yardage attack more effective.

Ferguson faked inside and then floated a pass to Mark Hollingsworth, who was alone in the end zone. The touchdown and Bill McClard's extra point with 17 seconds left in the half gave Arkansas a 14-13 lead. Seconds later Jack Morris recovered a fumbled kick off and McClard booted a 52-yard field goal for a four point lead.

California did not score again until Arkansas had tallied on a 47-yard pass from Ferguson to Jim Hodge, a one-yard run by DeBorde, a two-yard scamper by Ferguson and an 11 yard sprint by Dickie Morton.

Ferguson, starting his first college game, completed 16 of 27 passes for 228 yards.

"We have great confidence in Ferguson," Broyles said. "We just don't want people to expect miracles even though he performed several at different times Saturday night."

Broyles said the Razorbacks' offensive line deserved a great deal of credit for Ferguson's performance.

"We worked hard on pass protection knowing that if you give Joe time he is going to hit passes all over the field," Broyles said.

"I wanted this team to have a good first ball game very desperately," Broyles said. "I told them before the game that I don't believe I've ever had a squad that I wanted to play better."

"When we left the dressing room this team reminded me of our teams of 1960 and 1961," Broyles said. "They almost knocked the door down wanting to get out there."

Broyles said tight end Billy Lively suffered torn ligaments in his knee in the first quarter and would be out for the season. Broyles said Mark Hollingsworth would work some at tight end and that Bobbie Nichols was expected back in the next few weeks. He also said quarterback Walker Nelson, who injured his ankle during the summer, may begin practicing next week.

The seventh-ranked Razorbacks' next opponent is Oklahoma State at Little Rock. OSU opened its season with a 26-7 victory over Mississippi State and Broyles said the Cowboys would come to Little Rock "with more confidence than they have ever had."

Most Action in Tennis at the Gate

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — The sun came out. So did Arthur Ashe, Jan Kodes, Tom Okker and Stan Smith—and hundreds of people who wanted to see them play.

But the only action at the U.S. Open Tennis Championships Sunday was at the gates where guards turned away spectators, telling them that the men's semifinals had been delayed for a second straight day.

A 90-minute downpour washed out Saturday's play and an intermittent rain Sunday left the center court grass soggy and the bare spots slippery.

Cat Offence Fine, Defense Sparkles

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Now that some of the excitement of last weekend's ballgame has worn off, the Hope Bobcats again get down to heavy business in preparing for Friday nights game with the Sheridan Yellowjackets.

After last weeks opening loss to Ashdown in which the aerial game showed up to be ineffective, the Cats weren't about to let it happen again and the result was pretty impressive.

Quarterback Tommy Frazier hit on eight of eighteen attempts for 143 yards and two touchdowns including a five yard scoring toss to tight end Steve Harris and a flip to Rusty Quillen that resulted in a 37 yard scoring play in the last quarter. Frazier also connected with Buddy Ingram on a two point conversion.

Two out of four passes hit their targets for Robie Boyd, who came in to relieve Frazier in the waning minutes, giving the Cats 24 more yards in the air to round out a good night in the passing department.

The ground game was just as good. Fullback David Johnson picked up 59 yards on 18 carries and halfback Tommy Miller carried the ball nine times for 37 yards. Also flanker Buddy Ingram picked up 25 yards, Frazier getting 16, and Quillen running for 12.

Twice the Cats were pinned inside their own 20 yard line and the offense was able to sustain a drive long enough to get out of any threat of bad field position. Instead they left the field position to the defensive unit and they came through fine, forcing interceptions, fumbles, and short punts.

Although the first quarter was scoreless it was plain to see that the Cats had been gaining good field position and at the start of the second period the Curley Wolves were backed up to their own three yard line. Getting out of trouble though they punted and after an exchange of the ball with 5:45 left in the half, Prescott had the ball again.

On second and 12 at the Curley Wolves 30, monsterman Rusty Quillen picked off a Freddie Wren pass and returned it 25 yards to the Wolves five before he was hauled down from behind. Two plays later Frazier found Harris all alone in the back of the end zone for first Bobcat touchdown of the 1971 season. Although the extra point failed the Cats held a 6-0 lead with 4:10 left in the half.

Immediately after the Hope tally, Prescott started at their own 24 yard line and began their only real driving threat of the night. Six plays moved the ball to the Bobcats 42 yard line before an alert defense hurried a fourth down pass into an incompletion.

At the beginning of the fourth and final period, Hope received a punt at their own 46 yard line. Three plays and a pass interference penalty gave the Cats a first and ten at the Curley Wolves 37. After an incomplete pass Frazier hit Quillen with a short pass at the 25 and with a block by Harris, Quillen carried it into the end zone.

With 10:16 left in the game, and after the two point conversion pass to Ingram, the Cats held a 14-0 lead.

Less than a minute later a fumble recovery gave Hope the ball at the Prescott 36 and on the second play, after a 35 yard run, Johnson carried the ball over from the one. Tim White's PAT with 8:30 showing on the clock gave Hope a 21-0 margin.

But the Cats weren't finished just yet! With Prescott deep in their own territory, Hope forced a short fourth down punt for excellent field position once again at the Curley Wolves 38 yard line with 7:03 left.

Using the running of Johnson and Miller, the Cats plowed out yardage to the three and on a second and three with 3:57 left in the game Frazier rolled out left on the option and outran the last Prescott defender himself for the six points. White tacked on the extra point and Hope had a convincing 28-0 cushion.

However on the first play of Prescott's next series Bobcat Melvin Weston intercepted at the Hope 30 and returned it to the Curley Wolves 37 yard line. Here, with 3:21 left in the game, the second unit starting showing that they too could move the ball and were going well before a pass interception at the Prescott three killed the drive.

A lot of credit must be given to offensive forward wall, who held up good on pass protection and gave the running backs some good holes to shoot through. And wasn't that defense sparkling! They kept Prescott in trouble practically all night.

Tonight the Bobcat B-team travels to Magnolia for their first game of the year while there will be a Booster Club meeting Tuesday night at 7:30 p.m.

Texas Tech Is Upset by Tulane

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ask Texas Tech Coach Jim Carlen what can happen when the kicking game turns sour. You get whupped—that's what happens.

Tech missed an extra point, a 25-yard field goal attempt, and had a punt blocked in a 15-9 upset by Tulane Saturday night.

The blocked punt at the Texas Tech five-yard line setup Tulane's winning touchdown.

"This was the first time I've had a punt blocked since I've been coaching," said an aghast Coach Jim Carlen. "And that covers eight years at Georgia Tech coaching the punters."

But Carlen knows where to go to get the problem solved.

"I can't blame anyone but myself for our kicking game because I coach the kickers," said Carlen.

While Tech was dismal in flying the Southwest Conference flag, Arkansas pulled off a big intersectional victory with a 51-20 rout of California behind junior quarterback Joe Ferguson. The Texas Aggies routed Wichita State 41-7 while Houston outlasted Rice 23-21 in their cross-town "city championship" battle in Rice Stadium.

The action picks up this week with Oklahoma State at Arkansas, Baylor at Kansas, Houston at Arizona State, Southern California at Rice, Southern Methodist at Oklahoma, Texas at UCLA, Texas A&M at LSU, UT-Arlington at TCU, and New Mexico at Texas Tech.

Rice earned some healthy respect from bitter rival Houston in defeat.

Cougar Coach Bill Yeoman said "You are nuts if you don't think Rice does not have some excellent athletes. They took advantage of the breaks and are certainly to be congratulated."

New Coach Bill Peterson, who had the Owls lined up in his pro-style offense, was proud.

"Our kids played real well," Peterson said. "I don't believe our kids are any patsies. They made a heck of an effort. I'm proud of them, especially the way they came back for that last touchdown."

Rice offensive guard Bart Fotherth summed things up when he said "You can't say much when you lose and don't take anything away from Houston but people had better look out for us."

Ferguson hit 16 of 27 passes for 228 yards as Arkansas exploded for 523 yards total offense. Ferguson passed for two touchdowns and ran for another. The Razorbacks also scored two touchdowns from the Wishbone offense, installed by Coach Frank Broyles for situations around the goal line.

Coach Gene Stallings used 70 players as A&M beat outmaned Wichita State.

LSU, UCLA Stunned in Upsets

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The buffalo, especially the species that makes Boulder, Colo., its natural habitat, is far from extinct, as the Louisiana State Tigers found out Saturday night.

"Did you ever see such big backs with such great speed?" marveled LSU Coach Charlie McClendon after the Colorado Buffaloes bowled over his ninth-ranked Bengals 31-21. "Colorado will be one of the top offensive teams in the country."

LSU was one of three members of The Associated Press' preseason Top Twenty to bite the dust Saturday night as the college football season got under way with a rash of upsets. Pitt stunned No. 15 UCLA 29-25 and South Carolina bested 17th-rated Georgia Tech 24-7.

The big Buffaloes McClendon was raving about were Charlie Davis, a 198-pound sophomore who shredded the vaunted LSU rushing defense for 175 yards and two touchdowns, and 220-pound John Tarver, who blasted away for 92 yards. Davis' touchdowns came on gallops of three and 47 yards.

"There weren't many bright spots for us," said McClendon. "We dropped some touchdown passes and you can't do this against a good team like Colorado and win."

"This was really a big win for us," said Colorado's Eddie Crowder, whose midweek remark that he had a "gut feeling" his team would win was taken rather lightly. "We beat a very good football team, one which will jell later and will give a lot of folks some problems later in the season."

A 10-yard touchdown pass from reserve quarterback Dave Havern to Leslie Block in the fourth period enabled Pitt to topple UCLA and stamped the Panthers as a team to be reckoned with.

"It was a great team effort and we had to go with a lot of sophomores," said Coach Carl DePasqua, "but during the fourth quarter we had to come up with the big play and we constantly got it."

Havern directed Pitt to a pair of second-half touchdowns after starter John Hogan ran for one first-half score and passed 21 yards to Doug Gindin for another.

South Carolina managed only one scoring drive against Georgia Tech but blocked a punt for one touchdown, sprung Dickie Harris on a 77-yard jaunt with an unblocked one for another and picked up two safeties when the Tech snapper sailed the ball past his punter out of the end zone.

In the only other Saturday night action involving a ranking team, eighth-ranked Arkansas leveled California 51-20 as Joe Ferguson passed for 228 yards and two scores, Jon Richardson and Dicky Morton combined up for 202 yards on the ground and Bill McClard booted a 52-yard field goal.

"We needed to have a good first game very desperately," said Coach Frank Broyles, "and I told them before the game that I don't believe I've ever had a squad that I wanted to go out and win a first game more than this one and they didn't let me down."

In the afternoon, second-ranked Nebraska, the defending national champions, crushed Oregon 34-7 with junior college halfback Gary Dixon scoring three times. Fourth-ranked Michigan overcame a sluggish first half and turned back No. 20 Northwestern 21-6 in a Big Ten opener.

The defending Big Ten champ, Ohio State, got four touchdowns from cornerback-turned-quarterback Don Lamka and walloped Iowa 52-21. Buzzy Rosenberg broke two long punt returns and soph QB Andy Johnson also tallied twice to lead 18th-rated Georgia to a 56-25 drubbing of Oregon State. Stanford, No. 19, eased past Missouri 19-0.

Two members of the Top Twenty got things rolling Friday night as 16th-ranked Alabama surprised No. 5 Southern California 17-10, making Bear Bryant the sixth coach in history to achieve 200 victories. "I think we're on our way back," said Bryant. "This one meant so much to us. We put so much into it. You could tell it on the bench ... we used the same approach as guys like Jordan and Stabler did—winning isn't the only thing; it's everything."

In other games, West Virginia shellacked Boston College 45-14 with Pete Wood rushing for a record 214 yards; Joe Schwartz rambled for 206 yards as Toledo extended the nation's longest winning streak to 24 games by drubbing East Carolina 45-0; Duke stunned Florida 12-6 behind the 204-yard rushing of Steve Jones and Dave Wright's four field goals; Tulane held off Texas Tech 15-9; Larry Russell scored four times in the last period and paced Wake Forest to a 27-7 triumph over Davidson; Michigan State blanked Illinois 10-0, Minnesota whipped Indiana 28-0, Oklahoma State's group of veterans and rookies downed Mississippi State 26-7.

Coody Wins World Series of Golf

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Charles Coody, who had to hold off Jack Nicklaus to win the World Series of Golf, was talking about the near-disasterous loss of four strokes on a single hole.

"I wasn't feeling too good when it was over and I wasn't thinking good," said the 34-year-old Masters champion who took a double bogey seven on the second hole while Nicklaus made an eagle three.

That gave the feared Nicklaus a share of the top spot in the chase for the $50,000 first prize in this four-man tournament.

"I'm not a superstar," the soft-spoken man from Abilene, Tex. said. "I'm not going to be playing this tournament every year like Jack."

"I'd just blown four strokes and lost any advantage I had. Now I'm even with one of the greatest players in the game and on a course that he plays exceptionally well."

"I can't say my thoughts were very good right then." But Nicklaus, playing erratically, couldn't take advantage of his opportunity, handed back the lead on a string of bogeys and let Coody claim his second title of the year and third of his seven-year pro career.

He won with a three-over-par 73 for 141 on the 7,180 yard Firestone Country Club course. Nicklaus, the PGA champion, was next with a 71 for 142 with Australian veteran Bruce Crampton one more stroke back at 143 after a final 70, the best round of the cool and cloudy day.

Crampton got into the elite field as an alternate off his Western Open title when Lee Trevino made his sweep of the U.S., Canadian and British Open crowns.

Trevino, still on the mend from a recent appendectomy, was last in the field with a 74 for 146. He hadn't been a major factor since getting upset at a television director on the 13th hole of Saturday's round.

Nicklaus picked up $15,000 for second, pushing his career earnings from this course alone to $303,750.

Coody, a ruggedly-handsome former Air Force officer, had a three stroke lead starting the day's play and pushed it to four with a birdie on the first hole. But then Nicklaus reached the green on the 500 yard, par five second with a six iron shot and made the eagle putt from seven feet.

Coody was in the rough near an adjacent fairway, put his second in the rough, found a trap with his third, blasted on 347 with junior college halfback Gary Dixon scoring three times. Fourth-ranked Nicklaus took them even, and then Coody bogeyed the fourth, missing the green.

"Jack's got him now," the gallery muttered, but it was not to be. Nicklaus bogeyed four of the next seven holes and Coody had a two stroke advantage as he methodically reeled off par after par.

Nicklaus pitched to two feet returns and soph QB Andy Johnson also tallied twice to lead 18th-rated Georgia to a 56-25 drubbing of Oregon State. Stanford, No. 19, eased past Missouri 19-0.

Two members of the Top Twenty got things rolling Friday night as 16th-ranked Alabama surprised No. 5 Southern California 17-10, making Bear Bryant the sixth coach in history to achieve 200 victories.

"I think we're on our way back," said Bryant. "This one meant so much to us. We put so much into it. You could tell it on the bench ... we used the

Colts Posing Question in Pro Ranks

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

What's wrong with the Baltimore Colts, pro football's Super Bowl champions? That question was asked by many National Football League fans today as the NFL prepared for its regular season opening next Sunday with the Colts playing at home against the New York Jets.

"There's something wrong," said Baltimore Coach Don McCafferty after Oakland had beaten the Colts 24-3 in the windup of the exhibition season over the weekend. "I don't see how it could be any worse."

The defeat gave the Colts 2-4 exhibition record, not including their triumph over the College All-Stars.

"I'm open to suggestions," McCafferty replied when asked what he planned to get the Colts doing.

The Dallas Cowboys, meantime, finished the exhibition season as the only unbeaten, untied club with a 24-17 triumph over the Kansas City Chiefs for their sixth in a row.

The Cowboys beaten in the Super Bowl by the Colts, open on the road against the Buffalo Bills and Coach Tom Landry said he will alternate Roger Staubach and Craig Morton at quarterback.

"I am very satisfied with our quarterback position," Landry said in explaining his reluctance to name a No. 1 QB for the Cowboys.

"The situation will stay as is with both of them playing. Both of them are looking good and both are getting the job done. We'll just go with whoever happens to be going best."

Quarterback Greg Landry of Detroit threw four touchdown passes as the Lions routed the Eagles 49-10 in a nationally televised game in Philadelphia Sunday night.

In the other games that wound up the preseason slate Sunday, the Chicago Bears whipped Denver 33-17, Pittsburgh downed the New York Giants 20-3 and Houston defeated New Orleans 24-17.

Four of Landry's TD passes went to Charlie Sanders including one for 49 yards, as the Lions snapped a two-game losing streak. Landry had missed Detroit's last two exhibitions with a twisted ankle.

Houston took an early lead on a 35-yard TD run by Joe Dawkins, a 61-yard punt return by Zeke Moore and a 35-yard pass from Charley Johnson to Jim Beirne, then held off a New Orleans rally led by rookie Archie Manning.

Manning, who completed 11 of 24 passes for 246 yards, sparked the Saints to two touchdowns before he was taken out in the last quarter in order not to aggravate an old foot injury.

The passing of Jack Con-cannon and Kent Nix brought the Bears from behind a 14-0 deficit to beat the Broncos. Concannon's passing gave the Bears a 17-14 halftime lead and Nix sewed it up with a 55-yard touchdown pass to Dick Gordon

Rain Washes Out Plan in Lefty-Righty

LENOIR, N.C. (AP) — For the fourth time in the nine-year history of the U.S. Lefty-Righty team golf tournament, rain has washed out one of the four days of play.

The championship flight couldn't complete the last 18 holes over the Cedar Rock Country Club course Saturday, so the champions were crowned on the basis of 54 hole scores.

Larry Watts of Bellflower, Calif., and Steve Cook of Long Beach, Calif., had a 15-under par total of 210 and a four-stroke win over the defending champions, Richard Tinsley of North Myrtle Beach, S.C., and Bob Bryant of Charlotte.

in the second half.

Terry Bradshaw completed 20 of 32 passes for 227 yards, including a 55-yard touchdown pass-run play to John Fuqua, to spark the Steelers over the Giants. Fran Tarkenton hit on 16 of 34 attempts for 128 yards for the Giants, but was intercepted three times.

In addition to the New York Jets at Baltimore and Dallas at Buffalo games, other season openers next Sunday are Houston at Cleveland, Kansas City at San Diego, Los Angeles at New Orleans, Miami at Denver, New York Giants at Green Bay, Oakland at New England, Philadelphia at Cincinnati, Pittsburgh at Chicago, San Francisco at Atlanta and Washington at St. Louis.

Giants Snap Seven-Game Tailspin

"The guys are saying we're back on the winning track now," said Bobby Bonds.

"We've been winning in the clutch and we've just got to keep on winning," said Bill Sudakis.

"The only important thing now is winning," said Nelson Briles.

"We're not looking at the scoreboard. We have to win," said Ted Simmons.

"It's not whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game," the old saying goes—but don't tell that to the San Francisco Giants, Los Angeles Dodgers, Pittsburgh Pirates and St. Louis Cardinals.

Winning is the only thing on the minds of the four National League teams—and winning is what they did Sunday, keeping a couple of divisional races as tight as when the day's play began.

The Giants, snapping out of a wild seven-game tailspin, struck hard and fast to beat Atlanta 6-1 and retain their meager three-game lead in the West over the charging Dodgers, who won their sixth in a row with a 6-3 victory over San Diego.

In the East, Briles held Montreal to six hits and blanked the Expos 4-0 to keep the Pirates 5½ games ahead of St. Louis, which got a four-hit shutout from Bob Gibson for a 4-0 triumph over the Chicago Cubs.

In the two other National League games, the New York Mets rallied to nose out Philadelphia 3-2 and Houston won its seventh in a row, downing Cincinnati 4-2.

"I think we're back on the track, too," said Bonds, who helped get the Giants going with his 29th homer, a two-run shot in their four-run first against the Braves, then added a run-scoring double in the ninth.

Thinking ahead tonight's and Tuesday night's crucial contests at home against the Dodgers, Bonds commented: "We could really break their morale by winning those next two games."

But San Francisco Manager Charlie Fox demurred. "I can't see any two games determining the outcome of the season, especially when we'll still have two weeks to go."

San Diego Manager Preston Gomez, assessing the upcoming clashes in San Francisco, said Los Angeles "is deeper in pitching than the Giants and have a better bench—but what it boils down to is that the Dodgers have to win both games. The Giants are in good shape if they win one of the two."

The Bucs gave Briles the only run he needed in the first inning as rookie Rennie Stennett doubled and scored on Bob Robertson's single. Robertson also scored in the fourth and singled in another run in the eighth.

"I knew we needed a big game and I went out to do the best I could," said Briles after Pittsburgh salvaged the finale of their three-game set against the Expos. "We can't worry about what the Cardinals are doing. We have to win ourselves."

Simmons, whose two-run homer paced the St. Louis attack, felt the same way. "We have to win to keep pace, then cash in on the five games we have left against Pittsburgh."

Gibson's shutout was his fifth of the season and 50th of his career, tying him with the Giants' Juan Marichal for the major league lead among active pitchers.

Mike Jorgensen of the Mets stroked the game deciding hit, a one-out single in the bottom of the ninth after Joe Hoerner had walked the winning run aboard and thrown a sacrifice bunt wildly past first.

Tech, Ouachita and Harding Are Winners

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Quarterback Phil Fisher threw two touchdown passes Saturday night to lead Arkansas Tech to a 31-14 football victory over Emporia, Kan.

In other AIC action, Harding defeated Austin College 32-7, Ouachita whipped Bishop College 21-6 and Southern State defeated Southeast Oklahoma 15-13. Thursday night, Arkansas AM&N defeated State College of Arkansas 13-10.

Fisher fired a 16-yard scoring toss to split end Rick Thone in the first quarter, a play set up by John Whiteside's fumble recovery on the Hornets' 39 and combined with Larry Brown for a 46-yard touchdown play later in the period.

Tech also scored on halfback Doug Bice's 11-yard run, a 36-yard field goal by Craig Williams and Bill Breedlove's 15-yard scamper.

Quarterback Barry Bennett tossed a 10-yard strike to end David Drummond for the first Ouachita touchdown. Tailback Johnny Baker plunged across six minutes later for another Ouachita TD. The final Tiger score came on a five-yard run by Ray Estes late in the fourth quarter.

Lolich and Blue Have Company

By ALEX SACHARE
Associated Press Sports Writer

Vida Blue and Mickey Lolich have company.

The American League's Cy Young sweepstakes is now a three-way affair—and nobody is knocking Wood.

Wilbur Wood, the veteran knuckleballing reliever-turned starter who has been the mainstay of the Chicago White Sox pitching staff this season, became the AL's third 20-game winner of 1971 Sunday by five-hitting the Kansas City Royals 3-0.

The shutout by Wood, 20-11, lowered his earned run average to 1.97 over 292 innings pitched. By comparison, Lolich has a better record—23-11—and has pitched more innings—333—but has a much higher ERA, 3.05.

And then there is Blue, who started for Oakland Sunday, gave up five runs in eight innings and was not involved in the decision as Minnesota defeated the A's 7-5 in 10 innings.

On statistics alone, Blue would have the award locked up. He has the best record of the trio, 23-8; the lowest earned run average, 1.80 over 295 innings; and the most strikeouts, 291, high in the majors.

He has not won a game, however, in the month of September, has lost four of his last five decisions and has compiled only a mediocre 6-6 record since the All-Star game.

All of which leaves Wood as a legitimate contender for the honor as the American League's outstanding pitcher.

Elsewhere in the AL, Detroit trimmed Boston 3-2, Cleveland beat the New York Yankees 5-2 and Milwaukee downed California 4-3. The doubleheader between Washington and Baltimore was rained out.

Wood, a relief pitcher until this season, was turned into a starter by Chuck Tanner, who is in his first full year as manager of the White Sox.

"At first I was reluctant about coming out of the bullpen," Wood declared. "I had been quite successful over the last three or four years in the bullpen, but Chuck is the boss, so I went along with the starting deal 100 per cent."

Wood went along with Tanner, and the manager reciprocated.

"I've had the opportunity to pitch twice a week, and this has helped me," the 29-year-old knuckleballer said. "I've had some bad games, but haven't had any bad stretches, times when I got into a real slump."

Wood conceded that his 20th victory was something special.

"Winning 19 isn't too far away from winning 20—but 20 is 10 times better."

Blue, meanwhile, is feeling the blahs.

"I feel physically hurt," he moaned, after going eight innings against the Twins.

"My body is tired, not my arm. I feel I can go a strong six innings, but that's about all."

Would an extra day's rest between starts help? "I don't know—I'm just tired."

Oakland Manager Dick Williams said if Blue was leading in the fifth or sixth inning of his next start he would take his ace out for a rest, but made no mention of changing his pitching rotation.

"He hasn't told me he's tired," Williams stated. "I will not have him skip a turn unless he asks."

Wood was not the only pitching star in the American League Sunday. Detroit reliever Tom Timmerman, 6-5, pitched one-hit ball over the final 5 1-3 innings as the Tigers edged Boston. Home runs by Tony Taylor and Al Kaline ac-

NOTICE OF LOCATION AND DESIGN APPROVAL
JOB 3584
FEDERAL AID PROJECT F-043-1 (3)
EVENING SHADE-HOPE HEMPSTEAD COUNTY

The Arkansas State Highway Department has received approval from the Division Engineer, Federal Highway Administration, of the proposed location and design of that portion of Highway 29 in Hempstead County described as follows:

That part of Highway 29 beginning at a point south of the Junction of Highways 29 and 355 and extends northward to Hope, generally following the existing road a distance of approximately 5.6 miles. The proposed project generally consists of grading, minor drainage structures, asphaltic concrete hot mix surfacing and miscellaneous items.

Plans, maps, sketches and other supporting information submitted to the Federal Highway Administration for approval are publicly available at the office of the District Engineer, Arkansas State Highway Department, 1515 West 3rd, Hope, Arkansas Sept. 13, 1971

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB Bleaching, Tinting Can Be Harmful

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I have been having this problem for quite some time now and since I read your column daily I though perhaps you might have a solution.

I am black, 25 years old, married and the mother of four children. My problem is almost as old as I am. I have tried every remedy, old and new, including protein treatments and my hair still won't grow. Is it possible this is due to vitamin deficiency?

Can it be hereditary? My parents and grandparents and great grandparents and their children all have beautiful heads of hair. What happened to me? I have been to doctors and they say it is not due to a nervous condition. I am not completely bald, but I would like to have more and longer hair.

Dear Reader — The fact that you still have hair is at least encouraging that something can be done about your problem. Temporary loss of hair sometimes follows a severe illness or after childbirth but if you have really had this problem most of your adult life it is probably on another basis.

The most common difficulty is doing too many things with hair. Techniques that put the hair under tension are particularly likely to cause loss of hair. I refer to making tight curls or hair straightening techniques. Either is hard on hair. The best hair care for someone having a problem is not to wash it too frequently. Do not over-comb, do not brush too often or too hard. Let it stay loose and don't use a lot of medications. There are no satisfactory medicines or shampoos to prevent loss of hair.

There are from 90,000 to 150,000 hairs on the scalp and normally about 10 per cent of the hair follicles are resting before they shoot out a new hair. Hair is shed at a rate of about 80 hairs a day. Once a hair follicle really quits working, not just resting, it usually doesn't produce hair again.

For the men who are still trying to find out the difference between blondes, red heads and brunettes, here is one. Blondes have more hair per square inch, red heads the least and brunettes in between.

Too much tinting and bleaching of hair can be harmful. Drastic changes in hair color can damage the hair, too. Most loss of hair

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The Interstate Highway System was designed to be the nation's key highway network, serving both civilian and defense needs. The World Almanac says that 29,906 miles of the 42,500 miles of the system were open to traffic as of Mar. 31, 1970, according to the Federal Highway Administration's Bureau of Public Roads.

from these causes is temporary if the practice is stopped. People having trouble with loss of hair should leave it alone for a while. Let it stay loose. Don't pull it, tease it, bind it into pony tails, braids, tight curls, or straighten it. Don't medicate it with expensive shampoos or other treatments. Nature will do more for you if you just let it alone. If that doesn't work have a good checkup for possible endocrine problems like a low-thyroid function. This is unlikely however in a young woman with four successful pregnancies. Family characteristics are important in determining baldness. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Oswald: "The first and most important thing to learn about the Blackwood convention is that it is used primarily to check on aces, so as to keep out of slams when you don't hold at least three of those nice cards."

Jim: "This leads to the corollary that a man who bids four no-trump intends to go to six any time his partner's response shows that his side holds three aces."

Oswald: "Today's South really abused the convention when he bid four no-trump. He would have bid six if his partner had shown the missing ace. When his partner showed no ace he thought a while and only bid five."

No Ceremony Discusses Our Youth at Burial of Krushchev

By JOHN BAUSMAN
Associated Press Writer
MOSCOW (AP) — Nikita S. Khrushchev, who led the Soviet Union for a dozen years with vigor and personal flair, was buried today without public display or ceremony.

The former Soviet premier and Community party chief was given a private farewell in the mourning hall at the hospital where he died Saturday of a heart attack at age 77.

His coffin was then transported to Moscow's Novodevichy Cemetery and lowered into the grave under a gray autumn sky. A rain shower stopped just before the funeral procession reached the cemetery.

Shortly before the burial, news of Khrushchev's death finally reached the Soviet public through brief radio reports and a short announcement in Pravda. The Communist party newspaper, the only paper published Monday mornings, carried the death notice in the lower righthand corner of its front page.

About 150 mourners, headed by Khrushchev's widow, Nina Petrovna, gathered for the final respects to him in the red brick hall on the hospital grounds. Western correspondents were admitted to the short ceremony which contained no eulogies or speeches.

A small band played a funeral dirge as mourners filed into the room where Khrushchev lay in his coffin, the upper half open to show his head and shoulders.

The room was large enough to hold only about 100 of the mourners and the remainder overflowed into the corridor outside.

Mrs. Khrushchev, wearing a dark gray coat and a black lace scarf on her head, had a soft, tender expression on her face, but betrayed no open emotion.

She was accompanied by her son, Sergie, her daughter Rada and son-in-law Alexei Adzhubel, and Julia, Khrushchev's daughter by a former marriage.

The death notice, bordered with black margin on two sides, was published without heading and without portrait or any other article on Khrushchev's career.

It read simply:

"The Central Committee of the CPSU — Communist Party of the Soviet Union — and the Council of Ministers of the U.S.S.R. with sorrow announce that on Sept. 11, 1971, after a grave and lasting illness in his 78th year died the former first secretary of the Central Committee of the CPSU and chairman of the Council of Ministers of the U.S.S.R., merit pensioner Nikita Sergeyevich Khrushchev."

Khrushchev had lived the last seven years of his life in total retirement and obscurity. He was provided a comfortable house in the country outside Moscow but was barred from any public activities other than an occasional visit to an exhibition or a trip to town to vote.

His name, which once filled the Soviet press, disappeared from print overnight after his ouster in October 1964. He received no visitors except for a few old friends and members of his family.

The imposed silence undoubtedly weighed heavily on the man who for 11 years headed the Soviet Communist party and directed the country's affairs with vigor and personal flair.

He died in a hospital for the Soviet elite in Moscow.

Khrushchev is the first former Soviet premier and Communist party chief to die since the death of Joseph Stalin in 1953.

Novodevichy Cemetery is an honored burial ground in Moscow, second only to the Kremlin wall where Stalin's body now lies.

Final Rites for Lawmaker

NEWPORT, Vt. (AP) — Funeral services will be held Wednesday for Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., who died Friday of stomach cancer.

The service at the United Church of Newport will be followed by burial at Pine Grove Cemetery.

A memorial service will be held 1 2 3 at the town Presbyterian Church in Washington.

LARRY PATTERSON

Juvenile Court Referee Larry Patterson revealed many pertinent facts, sometimes surprising facts dealing with the youth of our vicinity, when he spoke before the Hope B & PW Club on Thursday, September 9. On the subject of drugs, he said, "Every case is serious. The present generation is smarter than ever before; nevertheless, every member of it is a potential victim. Though schools and churches can do a great deal of good in alleviating the situation, the responsibility lies, primarily, in the home."

The speaker was introduced by Opal Daniel who arranged for the program. Other members of her committee were Wanda Byrd and Jack Porter. Chrysanthemums and candles decorated the tables, and the door prize went to Nina Anthony. There were 30 present for the dinner. President Dee McMurrough had charge of the meeting, and the members voted to sell tickets

McGovern in Meet With Bunker

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Sen. George S. McGovern met for 45 minutes today with U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and said he disagreed with Bunker's view that the Vietnamization program is proceeding quite well.

"It was more or less a courtesy call," said the South Dakota Democrat. "He gave me his views of how things were going. He said he thought South Vietnam was strengthening its military position and the Vietnamization program was proceeding quite well."

"I don't accept the American interpretation," McGovern declared. "I'm here to check my own views. It is not my view that Vietnamization is proceeding successfully. I don't see the Vietnamese having the capability of sustaining the Thieu regime without continuing American support indefinitely."

Arriving in Saigon for a three-day visit, McGovern called South Vietnam's Oct. 3 presidential election a "one-man exhibition that doesn't give the people of South Vietnam a fair choice between competing candidates."

President Nguyen Van Thieu, with whom McGovern will meet Wednesday, is the only candidate in the South Vietnamese election.

McGovern, a longtime opponent of the war, said he would discuss with Thieu the election and also the substance of six hours of private talks with McGovern had with Communist negotiators in Paris.

In Paris, he met with Xuan Thuy, chief Hanoi negotiator at the peace talks, and Dinh Ba Thi, acting head of the Viet Cong delegation.

Before leaving Paris, McGovern told newsmen that Hanoi has dropped its demand for the removal of Thieu as a condition for a Vietnam cease-fire and the release of American prisoners of war.

He said the Communist negotiators assured him only two basic conditions now were essential for a cease-fire and prisoner release: withdrawal of all U.S. military personnel from South Vietnam by Dec. 31 and cessation of all American bombing throughout Indochina.

to the 3rd District Livestock Show and Rodeo. Margie Vickers distributed tickets to those members present. Norma Jean Delaney, chairman of National Business Women's Week, October 17-23, outlined a few preliminary plans for its observance. Nike Club liaison officer Virginia Hosmer called attention to the next meeting of the high school organization at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, September 16, in the City Hall.

Most State GOPs Support Agnew Views

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A recent poll shows that most Republican leaders in the state support the views of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

"I'm fully aware of the fact that he is a somewhat controversial figure... but I think he has made many contributions," said former Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller.

Others contacted who expressed admiration for Agnew included Charles T. Bernard of Earle, chairman of the state GOP; Chester Mercer, president of the Arkansas Federation of Young Republicans; Pulaski County Clerk Jerome Cline; state Rep. George Nowotny of Fort Smith and Marion Burton, former executive secretary to Rockefeller.

Both Mercer and Burton agreed that Agnew had said a lot of things that needed saying, but at times did not take a tactful approach to the way he said certain things.

Bernard said he agreed with Agnew in many areas, but at times he thought the vice president had been misunderstood by the public.

Tells Medina to Refuse to Testify

FT. McPHERSON, Ga. (AP) — Lt. William L. Calley Jr., the first American to be convicted in the My Lai massacre, has been advised by his attorney to refuse to testify today in the trial of his former commander, Capt. Ernest L. Medina.

The 28-year-old lieutenant is to be called as Medina's first defense witness. He has been confined to his bachelor apartment at Ft. Benning, Ga., pending final appeal of his conviction for murdering 22 civilians at My Lai.

Calley was one of Medina's platoon leaders during an infantry assault on the South Vietnamese village March 16, 1968.

His attorney, George Latimer of Salt Lake City, said Sunday he would advise Calley to invoke the 5th Amendment guarantee against self-incrimination and refuse to testify in Medina's trial.

"From what I know at the present time and from what I have before me, I will advise him not to testify," said the 70-year-old Latimer, a former judge on the U.S. Military Court of Appeals.

Latimer said, however, he might alter his stand if Calley were ordered to testify by the judge, Col. Kenneth Howard.

He noted that a soldier's refusal to testify when ordered to do so by a military judge carries a possible five-year jail term.

Navy Taking New Look at Costly Subs

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Navy John Chafee is taking another look at an expensive new class of nuclear-powered attack submarines, raising the possibility fewer may be built in the future.

This is fresh evidence that

Chafee, concerned about rocketing ship costs, is questioning the arguments of senior admirals for ever-faster, more complex war vessels.

Last spring, Chafee recommended a cutback in plans for a new class of nuclear-powered frigates from five to three. Pentagon leaders followed that recommendation.

It is known that Chafee, concerned about the $250-million price of new frigates, rejects the admirals' arguments that nuclear-powered aircraft carriers are unable to reach full potential for long-endurance operations unless all their escorts also run on nuclear engines.

But while differing with some views of nuclear-Navy advocates, Chafee is urging Pentagon superiors to approve about $300 million in next year's budget toward construction of a new atomic-propelled carrier.

Several months ago Deputy Secretary of Defense David Packard shelved this proposed fourth U.S. nuclear carrier because its estimated price had zoomed close to a record $1 billion. Chafee calculates that building a new carrier with conventional oil-burning engines might save about 20 per cent. But those close to him say he feels it is impolitic to return to conventionally powered carriers in view of the strong opposition this would meet from key congressional supporters of nuclear propulsion.

In short, he is said to feel this is one fight he might lose.

Chafee has no intention of canceling the new class of fas-

Monday, September 13, 1971 ter attack submarines, which he is restudying in view of their cost. But associates say his rethinking could lead to a scaling down of the ultimate buy of these submarines.

Overall, Chafee expects Pentagon leaders to allot about $3 billion for Navy shipbuilding in the fiscal 1973 budget President Nixon will send to Congress in January.

Pitcher Hal Newhouser won 200 games during his career with the Detroit Tigers.
